In 879 BC, during Spring and Autumn Period, King Chu crowned his son Xiong Hong "King E", and built King City of Hubei Province. Since then Hubei province was referred to as "E" for short.
In 229 AD, during the Three Kingdoms period, the King of Wu Kingdom Sun Quan proclaimed himself emperor here, changed E County to Wuchang with the meaning of "Wu" (refers to army) and "Chang" (refers to prosperity), and established a capital here, creating the Three Kingdoms tripartite confrontation.
In 1080 AD, a generation of literary giant Su Dongpo wrote the eternal Masterpiece "Tune: Nian Nu Jiao, Memories of the past at the Red Cliff" in Red Cliff, Huangzhou, a river across here.
In 1981 AD, Ezhou Metal Tube Factory (the predecessor of Hubei Xinji Pharmaceutical Packaging Co.) was established, and started its 40-year manufacturing Road of aluminum tubes in this piece of outstanding and magic land.
